Background

Science communication is an increasingly important aspect of research

Major research funders require plans for communication and dissemination

Little is known about communication of the SSH, including communication of legal research.

Public
Communication of
Legal Research

Main Goal

To bring communication of legal research to the spotlight

Activities

Conference: to exchange experiences and share knowledge

Call for Papers: to reflect upon public communication of legal research, to fill a research gap, to find a niche for the public communication of legal research.

Activities

Mixed-methods study: to know what do UCILeR researchers understand by legal research communication, to identify how they communicate with lay audiences, what their motivations and obstacles are.

- Survey
- Focus Group

Expected outcomes

- A study on the communication of legal research at the UCILeR,
- Identification of models/techniques that can potentially be used to communicate legal research,
- Creation of a international network of legal researchers interested in this topic,
- Communication Skills Training Programme/Info sessions.
